Avoid DISTRESS

If you're hospitalized and medical staff don't know your allergies and pre-existing conditions, care can be delayed or compromised. If your condition is dire and loved ones don't have access to your healthcare directives, they can be denied the decision-making power you want them to have, or suffer the stress of making fateful decisions without knowing your wishes. We are providing you with a DocuBank Card to ensure there's no distressing guesswork for doctors or loved ones. They will know what you need and what you want.

All services include optional alerts to your emergency contacts when the card is used to obtain your directives
